News from the Headteacher:

At times you can forget just how many people are working collaboratively across the globe, to secure the best possible outcomes for children with Autism. The Wendy Chung lecture reminded me of that. By watching and listening to individuals like Wendy, I find the resilience and optimism needed to secure the very best for our own students. Have a lovely half term.

News from the classroom:

As Key Stage 4 are studying transport as their topic this term they were wondering if anybody has any toy cars they can donate? We have hosted a placement for a trainee police officer this week, he has spent time in all areas of the school, this was a very positive visit and the students enjoyed asking him questions.

News from the residential flats :

It has been a good fortnight across the flats, the students have participated in their usual activities such as swimming, golf and they have also enjoyed going to the hall for a disco. Hope you all have a lovely weekend.
